

Why the Children's Clothes Wear Longer

Children's clothes get mighty dirty, but Fels-Naptha removes the last particle of grime without hard rubbing.

That is a big saving, because with an ordinary soap, washing children's clothes is harder on them than daily wear.

No hard rubbing; boiling unnecessary; it's wonderful how Fels-Naptha saves the clothes for long wear.

To keep white clothes white, use Fels-Naptha

WE WHO STAY AT HOME

By Robert Grant
Of The Vigilantes
We shall conquer the ruthless Hun
Only by self-denial.
Of our millions there is not one
Not now on trial.
So let us serve, we—who stay at home
That those who die in the dank trench
or the ocean foam
Can hold us not to blame;
Else ours the endless shame.

Let each forego his pleasure,
Let each bestow his leisure.
There hangs on our behavior
The greatest issue that ever faced a land.

Either we prove the Savior
Of freedom or we fall beneath the heel
Of a perfidious tyrant girt with fire
and steel,
And we be numbered with the unstable sand.

Pay heed, ye slackers, aliens who presume
Upon the safety of these peaceful shores
Where crucks no whip and no gun roars,
Where wages mount and there is boundless room;
Give of your plenty lest you live to see
Enlightening liberty go crashing down
Before the invading Teuton cannonade,
And you become the serfs you would not be.

Awake and serve the cause that made you free.
We must be victors if we have your aid.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immediately effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CARD OF THANKS

Fifty years ago today (November 21,) we started on life's journey, and during that time we have had many ups and downs, but we are deeply thankful that we are here today in good health surrounded by all our sons and daughters that are left us. We can't express the pleasure it is to us to have all our children greet us on this most solemn, though happy occasion, and that they are all in good health and enjoying life finely.

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors who met with us to greet us and sincerely hope they may all live to celebrate a similar occasion in their lives. We also desire to thank them for the many golden offerings as well as the other handsome and useful presents received.

We also excuse any and all who were unable to be with us on the occasion because we know we had their good wishes just the same.

Gratefully yours,
Austin Haney and wife.

CLAY MINER MEETS WITH INSTANT DEATH

Charles Stephens, aged about 37 years, a well known clay miner employed in the Bradford clay mine of the Harbison-Walker Refractories Co. at Woodland, was killed about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5, from the effects of a shot loaded with dynamite.
The unfortunate man had two shots fired at the end of the day's work, and had his clothes on preparatory to go out of the mine, and as one of the shots was delayed in going off, it is supposed that he went back to investigate, and when in front of the shot it exploded, the full force of the shot catching him on the face and body. He was instantly killed, being blown several feet. When he did not come home at the usual hour his son, aged 17 years, went to see what was keeping him and found him dead.
He leaves a wife, together with two sons, aged 16 and 17 years.

THE PASSING AWAY OF EDWARD HARRIS, SR.

The passing away of Edward Harris Sr., who died at his home at Troy, north of Philipsburg, on Wednesday morning, December 5, 1917, at 8:45 o'clock, removes one who has for years been a well known and highly esteemed resident of this community.

While he had been ill with complications for about three years, his death was unexpected and came as a great shock to his many friends.

The deceased was born in Gornell, near Dudley, Staffordshire, England, on June 11, 1844, making his age 73 years, 5 months and 24 days. In early manhood he was married to Miss Jane Hotchkiss, who resided in Worcestershire. They later on came to America to make their home, and for about thirty years have resided in this community.

Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his demise three sons and one daughter viz: William, Edward and Henry and Mrs. David Smith of Troy. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Edward Hampton, who lives in England. He also is survived by 17 grand children and 8 great grand children.

Mr. Harris was engaged in the coal mining business, was an enterprising citizen, kind husband and father, a member of L. O. O. M. and of the Episcopal church, and his death will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday, September 5, 1915, at which many friends were present.

The funeral will take place from his late home on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. F. T. Eastment, of St. Paul's church, officiating, with interment in the Philipsburg cemetery.

HEALTHY OLD CLEARFIELD

Clearfield may well be styled the healthiest town in this section of the state. Secretary Wilson of the Health Board informed us today that he had just two cases of contagious disease under quarantine at the present time, one of which is the Banta small pox case and the other a diphtheria case. Some record that for a town of 10,000 people. Eh! What?

The Wonderful Christmas Display in The Store Have Been Brought About Only Through Months of Careful Planning

Store Editorial

A Word About The Delivery Service
Question

Inasmuch as the majority of our customers have been very, very considerate in the past, in the matter of carrying their own bundles, if small—we have refrained from making much mention of this subject.

However, it can be easily understood that a very important ideal underlies the plea of our Government to curtail every UNNECESSARY expense—it is the training of the American housewife to SAVE FOR HER OWN SAKE.

You must remember that every parcel taken along with you means just so much saved in delivery costs—just so much in helping keep costs down and possibly reducing some.

If you could have witnessed the inside working of the store the past few days we are quite sure you would have marveled at the exactness with which each detail was planned so as to meet the enormous strain that would be placed upon it, and so that the organization as a whole would run just as smoothly as at any other time.

During the period, such as this, then; you will find the store of even greater service than ever; possibly because it is The Gift Store in every sense of the word—and perhaps because you have come to feel a sense of trust in its merchandising policy, that has made so many women of Clearfield feel utmost comfort in shopping here, and have our staunchest friends.

Better inducement for making an immediate trip to the store need not be offered; better values cannot be expected. The suits are of the very character being worn today and will be worn for months to come. Early choice is to your own advantage.

This Is Going to Be The Hand- kerchief Store of Clearfield--- Thousands of Handkerchiefs Fresh and Desirable Ready For Christmas Gift Buyers

Not necessary to say it will be almost impossible to secure additional quantities before Christmas. The man or woman who has set Handkerchiefs opposite several names for gifts, will not need urging to come to the store EARLY—VERY EARLY—and make selection while choice is so broad and satisfying. You will find ample displays throughout the store.

A Gift Suggestion--Leather and Velvet Handbags, 50c to $5

With so many different ideas to choose from, you are sure to find one among them that is certain to please the recipient. A New Shipment of Ribbons at 19c to 35c the yard

This is the first intimation of Christmas—yet, it is not a single day too early. Whether the ribbons be for a novelty bag or to cover your home-made candy paper-boxes with, or for a hundred and one other Christmas gifts, you will want to purchase early enough to have preparations complete in ample time for the holiday.

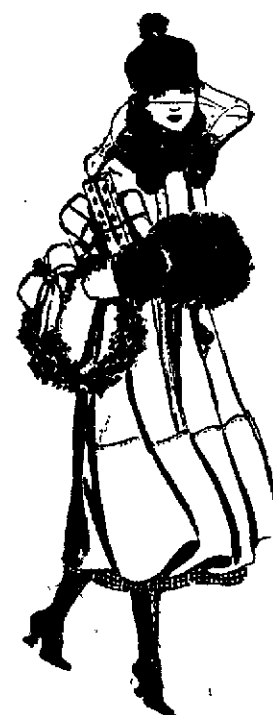

There is also a wide range of baby ribbon at very attractive prices, that are sure to have a large demand at 1c to 10c a yd.

Sharp Reductions In Trimmed Millinery

Hats that were $5.00 to $7.00 now priced at $1.95 to $2.95

As in past years, just as soon as Christmas begins to make its present felt—the immediate disposal of all trimmed millinery is demanded to make room for other important displays and incoming stocks. Although we could readily sell the millinery at regular prices within a few days, our merchandising policy must be carried out regardless of any condition.

All the newest shapes are included. Many have trimmings that alone are well worth the price.

THE FAMOUS PARKER GAMES

A. W. LEONARDSON COMPANY

Dr. W. S. Piper Writes Interestingly From Real Battlefield In France

Clearfield Physician With British Storming Regiment Tells of Some of His Experiences "Over There"

"Somewhere in France"

November 4, 1917

Dear Stewart:

You certainly are a fox, do you think it would be possible for me to pass up a letter line yours of October 18th without answering it? If you do you have no conception of what a letter like that means to a fellow thousands of miles from home and serving at the front under such conditions as we have to face. My dear man, that letter was a wonder, I read it more times than I would like to admit and I showed it to our Colonel who insisted on passing it around among the other officers. If the people at home only understood what letters mean to us, we would be flooded with mail. To write a letter like yours is really doing a great deal for your country. It put my shoulders back three inches, a smile on my face that I feel certain remained even after I went to sleep and I went through my work with greater ginger than I have displayed for weeks. Tell the people through your paper to write to every boy at the front in whom they have the slightest interest. They all want letters as badly as I do, but tell them not to expect answers as every man has his hands full out here and letters are written when they should be sleeping.

I will only write a few generalities as I have given most of my doings in letters home and I do not wish to repeat. I would like to tell you specific things but you know that is not allowable, the censorship is too strict.

My service has been in base hospital, main divisional collecting hospital, advance dressing station, field ambulance and with infantry regiment so you see I have been moving some. I have served all the time on the active part of the front and have been shifted from the Belgium coast to deep in France, always where the fighting was hottest. I am at present with a storming regiment of infantry we just came out of a period in the front line. As you can imagine, I could write a book on those twelve days with a regiment like I am in. But I could write a book on the doings of one day alone, the 4th of October, look it up. I had more different varieties of sudden and violent death confront me that day than there are varieties of pickles put up by Heinz. I cannot give you particulars but suffice it to say that I followed the troops and used German pill boxes or concrete block houses as the splendid British captured them. In one place I used German bandages, etc., for more than two hours. I was rushed into that on account of an emergency and was relieved in the afternoon when I went direct to the main divisional collecting hospital and worked in the operating room all that night. One experience I might mention. While working in no man's land, one of my stretcher bearers went down. A long line of Boche prisoners were being hauled. I picked out a good husky chap, grabbed him by the shoulder and pointed to the stretcher with a badly wounded man on it. He stolidly shook his head "no" and started to plod on. What would you do under similar circumstances. Remember we were laboriously carrying as many wounded Boche's back as British and the mud was knee deep. I think I know what you would have done—same here—but he glanced over his shoulder just in time to see what was going to happen and he almost turned a flipper to get to those stretcher handles. I wish I could tell you more but I am afraid I might get on forbidden ground.

The battle line differs greatly in different sections on account of ground conditions. Some places there are no trenches, just shell holes and concrete for protection, on other fronts the trench systems are most elaborate and the deep Boche dugouts are very commodious, warm and dry. I had my hospital between 25 and 30 feet underground during the last stunt.

When speaking of "Going over the top" I always thought of the men getting in position and then a mad rush over "no man's land." The Barrage fire has altered all that. The Barrage fire is one of the developments and wonders of this war. The accuracy of the heavy artillery is something almost unbelievable when you realize that some of them are firing many miles. When a Barrage starts there are no words to describe the horrible din and all those thousands of shells and high explosives are bursting in a perfectly straight line and at the same level. The British Barrage on an important front is so perfect that no living thing could pass through it

This Barrage pounds the opposing trenches and defenses to pieces, the attacking party quietly go over the top and slowly march back of their Barrage. Of course casualties occur from their own fire but they keep back of it far enough to avoid much danger that way. The Boche goes into his deep dugouts and when the Barrage finally sweeps past the trench it is a race to see whether the Boche can get out of their strongholds and get their machine guns, etc., in position in time to be of use in repelling the attack. These attacks are made over ground in the most horrible condition. The high explosives have the ground surfaces torn to pieces and the rains have the whole landscape one swimming mucky surface, sometimes almost waist deep and forests are nothing but splinters and sticks.

The aeroplane fighting and bombing is being developed to a high degree and I wonder if any of you realize what it means when you read in the papers "2½ tons of explosives were dropped on — last night." These explosives are high explosives with the accent on the high, and it is some "midsummer night's dream" to be sleeping in a tent and have those "2½ tons" exploding all around you but it is astonishing how soon one becomes accustomed to them and after a time it simply annoys your slumbers like a severe electrical storm would at home and really we have some controversies oftentimes at morning mess when some one will speak of the bombing and others will insist there was none.

The aeroplanes when shot down in air fights, fall in different ways. If the engine stops, the plane comes tumbling or flopping down and really seems to come very slow, but when the pilot is killed and the engine running, the machine often runs along quite smoothly for some distance, then goes through most amazing convolutions and finally comes down to earth with a terrific nose dive. The aeroplane service is to my mind the most enticing of the war, and while England holds supremacy in the air along this front, I hope to see America come in with enough machines to sweep the enemy from the skies. Come America, bring your tens of thousands.

A little about the British and I must get to bed. It amazes me when I realize how little we know the British. They are a most remarkable people and so different from what I expected to find. The British officer is the most polished, gentlemanly, accommodating and altogether delightful person that I can imagine. I have been given the most considerate treatment ever since I landed and I cannot tell you what a pleasure it is to associate with them. The British Tommy is quiet, respectful and full of courage. If you could have seen the things I have, your admiration could not help going out to them as mine has. They are wonderful. They have many peculiarities and their speech is as amusing to me as mine is to them. They all tease me a great deal about America and call me by ridiculous Yankee names, but they wind up by some one saying "Never mind, Piper, an Englishman never jokes anyone they do not like," so I take it for granted I am getting along alright.

The English courage shows itself in innumerable ways. For instance, the English are constantly bombing the German munition dumps, factories, etc., day and night. The Germans only come over at night, when they are practically safe. The English fly exceedingly low and take splendid pictures and pay no attention to the fact that the Germans are shelling him. I counted thirty-seven pieces of bursting shells at one time around a British plane but he went ahead and performed the particular duty he had in mind, absolutely disregarding the shelling. I have also seen a British machine time and again spiral high in the air then turning the nose of the machine straight down come skimming straight along the Boche trenches with his machine gun roaring and even though the Boche would be firing at him with all their might, he would come almost down to the ground before skimming away and coming at the again. I never saw a Boche do that. They come over exceedingly high and only seem to fight when they catch the other fellow at a decided disadvantage. Another thing, the British make themselves as comfortable as possible with the means at hand and with no particular desire to hunt a safe place or to hide. If you go into what was once a town and find everything blown to bits and not a wall standing, you will find the bally Englishman snugly quartered in the cellars with a strip of sheet iron over him that would not stop a revolver bullet or he will pick out a likely spot and put up his tents. But the Boche laboriously dig dug outs that often have 40 to 50 steps right down into the bowels of the earth. If you say to an Englishman this is mighty dangerous, there should be more protection, he will say "We are an advancing army we will use the Hun concrete and dugouts," and that to my mind is very significant. The English are advancing and the Huns retreating. If I had time I could explain why the advance is slow. The British are grinding the life out of them. They lay out their objectives and they take them. The Boche never fight the British well at long distance but when it comes time for the cold steel, up go their hands at once and it is "Kamerad." The Boche prisoners coming back all shake their heads and say "That terrible artillery." I have seen the German boys coming back crying like babies. They had been told that if taken prisoners they would be taken back, made to dig their own graves and then be shot into them. As soon as they were told they would be treated well if they would be good boys and obey orders they would brighten up and go back rejoicing that for them the war was over. The Germans want peace and in their cunning way they are playing for the best terms possible by these desperate sorties in Italy and Russia. But don't mistake, Stewart. The war will be fought and won on the Western front and we want the boys over now to help do it quickly and thoroughly. I am meeting American men almost daily now and it is a source of pride for me to feel and know that I was among the very first to be ranged up in front line trenches and to go over the top with my U. S. uniform on, even though I was in active service with our noble ally—Great Britain.

Do not think for a moment that I am in any way detracting from the splendid work of any of the rest of our allies. It means only that I have had opportunity to observe the work of the British forces alone, and I cannot close without mentioning the splendid work of the Canadians, Australians and New Zealanders. Their work is most spectacular and no words of praise could be too great for them. Now a word about the Y. M. C. A., they call it the "Y Emma" and the Canadians are doing wonders through it. They have free tea on tap at all times and sell things at very near cost. They give free writing paper and envelopes, splendid entertainments and have large reading and recreation huts. Support the "Y Emma." It is a noble institution. One thing we Americans miss sadly is American tobacco. I never smoked cigarettes at home but everyone does here. I have written for Tuxedo pipe tobacco and Camel cigarettes but none have come through yet. The tobacco here is rotten and so are the cigars and another thing, I cannot afford cigars as this war is going to strap me financially.

And now, dear Stewart, on these cold winter nights, tell our good Clearfield people when they go home to their family circle and their warm comfortable homes to think of me and thousands more of us sleeping in fireless huts, tents, dugouts, hospitals, out in the wind with a single blanket or knee deep in the mud and slush of the trenches, and tell them to go down in their jeans for the last penny they can spare to help their men and their country in this trying ordeal.

Clearfield, the best little city in the world, has become doubly dear to me. What Clearfield has done for me I will never forget and if it is God's will that I may return from this awful war I know that I will find my friends unchanged and will not feel an outcast in a strange land. I feel that you will receive me with open arms and how gladly I will rush into them. I do not believe as I have been told that I will find my practice gone and will have to start all over again. I can count on Clearfield every time and I know I am right.

As I have received intimation that I am to be transferred soon, I will appreciate it greatly if you will state in the paper that any one wishing to address me should address my letters Wm. Scott Piper, Lieut., M. O. R. C., c/o Cox & Co., Boulogne, France Cox & Co. are my agents and will forward mail to me at once. You see I am really shifting all about the front as the fighting shifts and it takes almost a month each way for letters in war time.

Dear Stewart, it is now nearly morning and my servant will soon be calling me for breakfast. I am about out of candles. Give my love to all my Clearfield friends.

Most sincerely

W. SCOTT PIPER

COURT NOTES

The December term of criminal court ended yesterday afternoon with the case of Com. vs. Thomas Barr and the taking of verdicts of "not guilty" in the two alleged attempted poisoning cases from Westover.

In the former case Tom Barr, the efficient "High Sheriff" of Cooper township, was charged by Mrs. Minnie Krause, of the German settlement near Winburne, with assault and battery. The evidence in the case showed that Constable Barr went to the Krause home with a warrant for the woman, issued at the instigation of the School Board because of failure to send her children to school. The woman objected to being "pinched" by the officer and Tom was called upon to put the strong arm of the law around her and forcibly conduct her to the Squire's office.

Not believing in the "laying on of hands," and being very much incensed over her arrest Mrs. Krause had the doughty Constable arrested and Squire Chorpensing sent the case to court.

The jury promptly acquitted Constable Barr and assessed the prosecutrix with the costs.

Attorney James A. Gleason, of DuBois, filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office Monday in which Mrs. Mary Cabata seeks a divorce from her husband Joseph Cabata. They were married September 10, 1910 and the husband left July 5, 1914.

Mary G. Oswald, also wants a divorce from Pearl A. Oswald, whom she married February 17, 1910 and who deserted her August 1, 1913. John C. Arnold is the attorney in the case.

Ella Conway asks for a divorce from Mangus Conway whom she married in Clearfield December 23, 1912. She alleges she was forced to leave her husband August 1, 1913, because of his unreasonable jealousy and cruel and barbarous treatment.

Conrad Bloom asks for a divorce from his wife Hattie C. Bloom. The Blooms were married Jan. 27, 1897, and quit in March 1910, because the husband alleges, of failure to respect the marriage vow on the part of his wife. He names Fred Menhoun, of Garrett County, Maryland, as co-respondent. Liveright & Krebs appeared for the petitioner.

Raymond Albright entered a suit for damages against W. K. Kephart, David Mease and John Douglas, supervisors of Decatur township, in which he seeks to recover $150 for the loss of a sore leg, which broke a leg in a chuck hole on the road leading from Jeffries Postoffice through Henderson to Houtdale. The horse which was valued at $100, had to be shot, and suit was brought by Attorney A. R. Chase for the value of the horse and $50 additional for the trouble and inconvenience occasioned by the accident.

Harvey L. Solida of Sandy township, through his attorney James A. Gleason, entered suit against Stefano Riccuti for $150 damages to his lot, due he alleges to the digging of a ditch below him by Riccuti into which the soil from Solida's garden slid.

G. L. Fletcher and F. J. Anderson, trading as the Belknap Lumber Company, entered a suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in which they ask $5,000 for damages to timber land in Burnside township caused by a fire on May 19th, which it is alleged was caused by sparks from one of the defendant company's engines. Miller & Hartwick entered the suit.

N. D. Hines, of DuBois, entered suit against the Western Union Telegraph Company this week in which it is sought to recover $5,000 damages, incident to failure to properly handle or deliver a telegram message of vital importance. The attorneys for Hines are L. L. Boyer and James A. Gleason, Esq.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. C. J. Logan, Mary Seabrook, prosecutrix, and in the case of Commonwealth vs. C. J. Logan, Emma Seabrook, prosecutrix, verdicts of not guilty were rendered by the jury, after which criminal court ended.

Final Lot Camp Lee Boys To Go In 10 Days

Third Contingent Called For Week Of December 17th

Harrisburg, Dec. 7.—Twenty-eight thousand Pennsylvania men of the National army will be in or on their way to Camp Meade, Lee and Sherman within ten days. Draft headquarters today received orders from Washington to forward the last of the quota to Camp Sherman, Ohio. This contingent is from the western counties—Washington, Lawrence, Venango and Green. The movement will begin Monday if transportation can be arranged. The last quota for Camp Meade and Lee will begin to leave, the state headquarters understand, during the week of December 17. Pennsylvania's quota for the national army is 60,000 men of which 32,000 are in camp.

PROMINENT SOMERSET HUNTERS IN TOWN

Mayor W. D. Lambert and R. C. McVicker, two of Somerset's most noted "moonshiners" and huntersmen, were in Clearfield on Wednesday on their way to join a crowd of other Somerset hunters on the mountains at the Harpster Camp, with Squire F. G. Chorpensing and several other local sportsmen.

Bro. Lambert, who is an old newspaper man as well as bloodthirsty deer hunter, was elected mayor of Somerset at the November election and finds time to take quite an active part in Somerset county politics. These gentlemen motored over from Somerset and arrived here about 9:30 p. m. We tried to induce them to stay in town over night but when they heard about Squire Chorpensing landing his big buck Monday at noon you couldn't hold them with a two inch wire cable. Besides it was McVicker's first trip for deer and he was doubly anxious to get to the place where they ran wild. After loading up with newspapers and incidentals they continued to camp and were on deck when the breakfast bell sounded Thursday morning.

DRAFTEE IN JAIL

William E. Shonewald, the draftee from District No. 2 who has been given more or less notoriety because of his failure to adequately provide for his family, was arrested yesterday by Constable Bowman on a warrant from Squire Milligan's office issued on information made by Mrs. Shonewald.

The young man was landed in jail and after being sentenced by Judge Bell will likely be given an opportunity to join the final contingent for Camp Lee during the week of Dec. 17.

A FINE ADDRESS

The Men's Bible Class of the West Side M. E. Church held an interesting meeting last evening when was addressed by Prof. John T. Taylor, of the local High School faculty. Prof. Taylor gave an interesting and instructive talk on the world war and so highly was his effort regarded that he was unanimously requested to deliver the same address at the church Sunday evening, December 16. A delicious buffet luncheon was served.

AMERICAN CONSUL THOUGHT TO BE LOST

(By United Press)

Washington, December 7.—Freezing cold and a heavy snow added to the suffering of the wounded and shelterless in the blasted city of Halifax today. Fires which were being extinguished broke out anew today. There is no reliable count of the dead. Two thousand is a low estimate in the belief of those working among the ruins searching for dead bodies. Police are attempting to find the parents of children found wandering among the debris crying for their mothers. The most damaged section of Halifax is under guard.

Bitter cold added to the suffering of the homeless today. Women were searching in the ruins of their homes. Workmen on wagons were going through the streets clearing away the debris which is preventing traffic found dead bodies among the ruins. There are many corpses buried as "unidentified." The present plan is to bury them in one large grave such as the trench graves on the battle front. No accurate count of the dead has yet been attempted. Hundreds of those who were slightly injured have been attended to.

A special train loaded with food, and other necessary supplies arrived in Halifax from St. John's this morning. Mayor Hays and the majority of surgeons from St. John's also arrived. Canadian soldiers and American soldiers were side by side searching for wounded today. The detachment of Blue Jackets which arrived a short time after the explosion were the main help. American relief workers from New York, Boston and other nearby points are en route. Thousands having no other wounds were suffering from cuts sustained when the flying explosives broke windows. A formal inquiry into the cause of the explosion will be made. Witnesses declare that the Belgian vessel's steering gear was broken.

Five thousand are dead in the Halifax disaster was the unconfirmed estimate a naval commander forwarded to the Navy Department here over night. He had seen and heard the horrible explosion when fifty-two miles at sea and reaching the harbor learned of the holocaust. He declared the munition ship's crew reached shore safely in abandoning their craft when the fire started. The Navy department received the following account of the disaster from the naval commander:

"While fifty-two miles at sea the explosion of a munition ship was seen and heard. When I arrived I offered my assistance and learned the following concerning the circumstances leading up to the explosion. Belgian relief ship collided with a French munitions vessel loaded with 3,000 tons of T. N. T. and a large quantity of benzine. During the explosion the benzine caught fire and as soon as the fire started the crews abandoned their ships. Practically all of northern Halifax was destroyed. The fire is still raging and the dead is believed to have been 5,000. The explosion sank three ships and damaged several others."

Fear for the safety of American Consul General Ethelbert Watts, of Halifax—a Philadelphian—were voiced by the State department today. Consul Freeman, of Sidney, Nova Scotia left early today to investigate the state of the Americans in the vicinity of the explosion.

The American Consulate at Halifax is within two and a half blocks of the water front and close to the customs house. Efforts of the State Department to get in touch with Halifax were fruitless. Today the Department's anxiety was aroused as Watts has been very prompt in reporting any disaster. That no American ship was involved in the disaster appeared more likely than ever this morning.

The escape of the crews of the two ships which collided was explained today. After the crash due to a mistake in signals both crews abandoned the ships. The French munition ship Mont Blanc was in flames and when the flames spread to the benzine the explosion occurred. The sailors knew an explosion was certain. The Belgian relief ship Imo which collided with the munition ship was riddled with holes from the exploding ammunition.

SENATE PASSES WAR RESOLUTIONS

Washington, December 7.—The Senate this afternoon unanimously passed a resolution declaring a state of war with Austria-Hungary. That the House will take the same action this afternoon appeared likely. Lafollette was absent when the roll call was made.

EXPRESS COMPANIES WANT MORE MONEY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—The applications recently filed by the express companies for a 10 per cent rate increase come up for hearing today, before the Interstate Commerce Commission. In support of their application eight of the leading companies have submitted figures to show that they operated at an actual aggregate loss of $4,000,000 during the previous six months their aggregate business and revenues had slumped the extent of several million dollars. Despite these figures submitted the companies is expected that a per cent will offer strenuous objection to the proposed rate increase.

Why the Children's Clothes Wear Longer

Children's clothes get mighty dirty, but Fels-Naptha removes the last particle of grime without hard rubbing.

That is a big saving, because with an ordinary soap, washing children's clothes is harder on them than daily wear.

No hard rubbing; boiling unnecessary; it's wonderful how Fels-Naptha saves the clothes for long wear.

WE WHO STAY AT HOME

By Robert Grant
Of The Vigilantes
We shall conquer the ruthless Hun
Only by self-denial.
Of our millions there is not one
Not now on trial.
So let us serve, we—who stay at home
That those who die in the dank trench
or the ocean foam
Can hold us not to blame;
Else ours the endless shame.

Let each forego his pleasure,
Let each bestow his leisure.
There hangs on our behavior
The greatest issue that ever faced a land.

Either we prove the Savior
Of freedom or we fall beneath the heel
Of a perfidious tyrant girt with fire
and steel,
And we be numbered with the unstable sand.

Pay heed, ye slackers, aliens who presume
Upon the safety of these peaceful shores
Where crucks no whip and no gun roars,
Where wages mount and there is boundless room;
Give of your plenty lest you live to see
Enlightening liberty go crashing down
Before the invading Teuton cannonade,
And you become the serfs you would not be.

Awake and serve the cause that made you free.
We must be victors if we have your aid.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immediately effective result.

CARD OF THANKS

Fifty years ago today (November 21,) we started on life's journey, and during that time we have had many ups and downs, but we are deeply thankful that we are here today in good health surrounded by all our sons and daughters that are left us. We can't express the pleasure it is to us to have all our children greet us on this most solemn, though happy occasion, and that they are all in good health and enjoying life finely.

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors who met with us to greet us and sincerely hope they may all live to celebrate a similar occasion in their lives. We also desire to thank them for the many golden offerings as well as the other handsome and useful presents received.

We also excuse any and all who were unable to be with us on the occasion because we know we had their good wishes just the same.

Gratefully yours,

WALLACETON

Many of our interested readers are carefully scanning the daily paper, watching for Congress to declare war on Austria, a cat-paw of the Kaiser rule. President Wilson's timely and much warranted message to Congress has stirred the united forces of our country to action. Every resource known to success in chastising our Teutonic enemies will be called forward to help win the war.

Mrs. Wm. Stempffly and Mrs. Francis Bottorf were doing their Christmas shopping early at Clearfield Wednesday.

Albert Foster had business at Morristown on Wednesday afternoon.

James Barton, Superintendent of our Brick Works has not been on duty for a few days, having business at Pittsburgh.

An entertainment was held in the M. E. Church on Thursday evening. Quite a crowd were in attendance.

We are still fortunate by escaping the small pox epidemic. We wonder some scurrilous reporter has not put our city among the afflicted towns to cause us inconvenience by having people give us a wide berth.

Our school teachers have been ordered to have all scholars vaccinated at once.

CLAY MINER MEETS WITH INSTANT DEATH

Charles Stephens, aged about 37 years, a well known clay miner employed in the Bradford clay mine of the Harbison-Walker Refractories Co. at Woodland, was killed about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5, from the effects of a shot loaded with dynamite.

The unfortunate man had two shots to fire at the end of the day's work, and had his clothes on preparatory to go out of the mine, and as one of the shots was delayed in going off, it is supposed that he went back to investigate, and when in front of the shot it exploded, the full force of the shot catching him on the face and body.
He was instantly killed, being blown several feet. When he did not come home at the usual hour his son, aged 17 years, went to see what was keeping him and found him dead.
He leaves a wife, together with two sons, aged 16 and 17 years.

THE PASSING AWAY OF EDWARD HARRIS, SR.

The passing away of Edward Harris
Sr., who died at his home at Troy, north of Philipsburg, on Wednesday morning, December 5, 1917, at 8:45 o'clock, removes one who has for years been a well known and highly esteemed resident of this community.
While he had been ill with complications for about three years, his death was unexpected and came as a great shock to his many friends.

The deceased was born in Gornell, near Dudley, Satfordshire, England, on June 11, 1844, making his age 73 years, 5 months and 24 days. In early manhood he was married to Miss Jane Hotchkiss, who resided in Worcestershire. They later on came to America to make their home, and for about thirty years have resided in that community.

Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his demise three sons and one daughter viz: William, Edward and Henry and Mrs. David Smith of Troy.
He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Edward Hampton, who lives in England.
He also is survived by 17 grand children and 8 great grand children.

Mr. Harris was engaged in the coal mining business, was an enterprising citizen, kind husband and father, a member of L. O. O. M. and of the Episcopal church, and his death will be mourned by a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday, September 5, 1915, at which many friends were present.

The funeral will take place from his late home on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. F. T. Eastment, of St. Paul's church, officiating, with interment in the Philipsburg cemetery.

HEALTHY OLD CLEARFIELD

Clearfield may well be styled the healthiest town in this section of the state. Secretary Wilson of the Health Board informed us today that he had just two cases of contagious disease under quarantine at the present time, one of which is the Banta small pox case and the other a diphtheria case. Some record that for a town of 10,000 people. Eh! What?

The Wonderful Christmas Display in The Store Have Been Brought About Only Through Months of Careful Planning

Store Editorial

A Word About The Delivery Service
Question

Inasmuch as the majority of our customers have been very, very considerate in the past, in the matter of carrying their town bundles, if small —we have refrained from making much mention of this subject.

However, it can be easily understood that a very important ideal underlies the plea of our Government to curtail every UNNECESSARY expense—it is the training of the American housewife to SAVE FOR HER OWN SAKE.

You must remember that every parcel taken along with you means just so much saved in delivery costs—just so much in helping keep costs down and possibly reducing some.

If you could have witnessed the inside working of the store the past few days we are quite sure you would have marveled at the exactness with which each detail was planned so as to meet the enormous strain that would be placed upon it, and so that the organization as a whole would run just as smoothly as at any other time.

During the period, such as this, then; you will find the store of even greater service than ever; possibly because it is The Gift Store n every sense of the word--and perhaps because you have come to feel a sense of trust in its merchandising policy, that has made so many women of Clearfield feel utmost comfort in shopping here, and have our staunchest friends.

The Opportunity Still Remains to Purchase A Smart, New Suit At Reduced Prices

Here is a complete list of reductions:

$19.50 to $22.50 Suits, now $14.75
$25.00 to $30.00 Suits, now $19.75
$35.00 to $42.50 Suits, now $29.75
$45.00 to $55.00 Suits, now $39.75

Better inducement for making an immediate trip to the store need not be offered; better values cannot be expected. The suits are of the very character being worn today and will be worn for months to come. Early choice is to your own advantage.

This Is Going to Be The Hand- kerchief Store of Clearfield--- Thousands of Handkerchiefs Fresh and Desirable Ready For Christmas Gift Buyers

This Christmas handkerchief stock was bought early—months ago. We had shipment made early so that they would be here in ample time, because we anticipated the congestion of the railroads.

Included are plain hemstitched handkerchiefs at 5c each, to the most elaborate lace handkerchief very daintily arranged in handsome gift boxes. Not necessary to say it will be almost impossible to secure additional quantities before Christmas. The man or woman who has set Handkerchiefs opposite several names for gifts, will not need urging to come to the store EARLY—VERY EARLY—and make selection while choice is so broad and satisfying. You will find ample displays throughout the store.

A Gift Suggestion--Leather and Velvet Handbags, 50c to $5

With so many different ideas to choose from, you are sure to find one among them that is certain to please the recipient. Here are bags of black and brown leathers in full flat shapes; by far the larger part, however, are in the pouch idea, with or without a frame, which continues to hold first place.

A New Shipment of Ribbons at 19c to 35c the yard

This is the first intimation of Christmas—yet, it is not a single day too early. Whether the ribbons be for a novelty bag or to cover your home-made candy paper-boxes with, or for a hundred and one other Christmas gifts, you will want to purchase early enough to have preparations complete in ample time for the holiday.

There is also a wide range of baby ribbon at very attractive prices, that are sure to have a large demand at 1c to 10c a yd.

Sharp Reductions In Trimmed Millinery

Hats that were $5.00 to $7.00 now priced at $1.95 to $2.95

As in past years, just as soon as Christmas begins to make its present felt—the immediate disposal of all trimmed millinery is demanded to make room for other important displays and incoming stocks. Although we could readily sell the millinery at regular prices within a few days, our merchandising policy must be carried out regardless of any condition.

All the newest shapes are included.
Many have trimmings that alone are well worth the price.
